05 / DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION EXPERIENCE

Development application experience.

Friday Consulting has worked on development applications, including rezoning and subdivision. This experience forms part of our wider consulting and property development support.

Development applications.

Development applications bring together the planning information needed for a proposed use or development. We help clients understand the municipal requirements and the steps relevant to their proposal.

Rezoning.

Rezoning seeks to change the land-use rights that apply to a property. The application explains the proposed use and its relationship to the local planning framework, surrounding properties and municipal requirements.

Subdivision.

Subdivision involves dividing a property into separate portions. Planning considerations include the intended use of each portion, access, services and the rules that apply to the land.

> We provide clear planning advice and agree the application support needed for each brief.
